WHERE LIFE IS CHEAP.

Pistols and Knives Necessary Furniture in New Mexico.

Alberquerque, N. M., June 12.—The little town of Phoenix, near Eddy, has gained an unsavory reputation for brawls and fights and even murders. Tuesday night Con Gibson, a railroad contractor who figured in this city in the early days, met J. M. Denison, the watchman of the town. Denison is a relative of Jim Miller, of Pecos City, who was recently shot and almost killed by Bud Frasier. The two men got to arguing over the shooting, Gibson declaring that he was a friend of Frazier's, at the same time reaching for his pistol. The hammer of the weapon caught in his clothing and before he could loosen it Denison shot him in the head. Strange to relate, the man is still alive. Denison is under arrest. Gibson, the wounded man, is married and has eight children.

THE BLACK DEATH.

San Francisco Board of Health Feels Anxious

AND TAKES TIME BY THE FORELOCK

Apprehensions Felt That the Loathsome Chinese Plague May Spread—Oriental Steamships to be Rigidly Examined—The Belgic Will be the First to Run the Gauntlet.

San Francisco, June 13.—A conference of members of the board of health will probably be held to-day to consider whether some precautions should be taken in the city in view of the prevalence of the black plague in the Chinese seaport towns.

While conditions in San Francisco are not at all favorable to any pest of the kind becoming epidemic, the fact that steamers running between these ports and this city bring hundreds of Chinese each trip is sufficient to stir up the board of health to take extra precautions to prevent the entry of suspicious cases.

The steamer Belgic is the next vessel to arrive from Hongkong on the 19th. She left Hongkong when the plague was beginning there, but the trip to Yokohama is eight days, and as that is also the period of incubation given by medical scientists for the "black death," it is very possible that any case of pestilence would have been discovered during that period. However, in view of the dangerous nature of the disease the strictest watch will be kept on all steamers coming to this port from China.

Eugene Russell of this city, a prominent member of the Society of Pioneers, died yesterday, aged 71. He came to California from Missouri with Col. Fremont's topographical engineers' corps. When they had finished their work he joined Fremont's mounted battalion of volunteers and served with distinction all through the Mexican war. He was closely identified with the stirring times of the early history of California.

WARRING MINERS.

The Great Strike in the United States Still Proceeding.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 13.—Fifty-seven coal operators in this district, pledged to abide by the Columbus agreement, are preparing to resume work. Many operators who opposed the conference say they will not pay the rate. Miners in western Pennsylvania denounce the compromise. Many districts are in revolt and officers threaten to resign. Nothing will be done until after the district meeting of miners.

Wheeling Creek, O., June 13.—Miners are indignant at the Columbus compromise and declare it will not stand. Firing between militia and strikers at Canal Dover is in progress. Col. Darrow asked for reinforcements. A gatling gun, a company of infantry and a battery are now at Dent. Six hundred miners met them, and a riot was the result.

BRIDGE BURNERS.

Armed Bands Deliberately Destroy Valuable Railway Property.

Birmingham, Ala., June 13.—Continued bridge burning, which is charged to striking miners, has spread throughout the district. Early this morning forty armed men marched to the Georgia Pacific bridge, just west of Cardiff, and covering the watchman with their guns forced him to flee or be killed. After saturating the structure with oil they set fire to it. After the mob left the watchman and section laborers returned and extinguished the flames. Three spans were burned. Seven bridges have been fired within six days.

STARVING SICILIANS.

Terrible Condition of Affairs on the Island.

Rome, June 12.—It is said Signor Crispi will form a reconcilliation cabinet, to include the Marquis di Rudina and Signor Zanardelli. Signor Colojani, member of the chamber of deputies, has written to the Cecolo describing the condition of the mining population in Sicily, which, he says, is most desperate. Thirty thousand miners on the island are starving and hopeless of an improvement.

They are threatening to burn the crops on the various estates, and declare that if they are condemned to die of hunger others shall share their lot.

BOMBARDED BY HAIL.

Vienna's Beautiful Gardens Destroyed by a Curious Storm.

Vienna, June 12.—The worst hailstorm that ever visited this city commenced at 7 o'clock this morning. Dense copper colored clouds arose with alarming rapidity. The wind drove the dust in columns to the height of four story houses. Then the hail began to fall, and covered the city in short time to the depth of from six to eight inches.

In less than fifteen minutes the city looked as if it had been bombarded. It is estimated that one hundred thousand windows were broken. Five hundred panes of glass were broken in the ministry of commerce building alone. Six hundred panes were broken in the palace. In the upper floors of the emperor's wing of the palace hardly a pane remains unbroken. The hailstones were as large as hazel nuts, and descended in the streets with tremendous force.

Three deaths are reported as due to falling stones. Horses were frightened by the storm and ran away, causing many accidents. Serious damage was done in a field outside of Vienna, where a detachment of artillery with twelve guns were overtaken. The horses bolted in all directions, and thirty soldiers were thrown helplessly upon the ground. Several of them were run over, one was killed and three officers were severly injured. The beautiful gardens of the city are ruined. Telegraph and telphone wires were blown down and the wires were stretched upon the ground like huge cobwebs, causing the deaths of thousands of birds. It is feared great damage has been done to crops.

Reports from Pressburg show that place was also visited by a disastrous hailstorm and the vineyards were ruined. Violent storms have occurred during the week at different points and immense damage is reported to have been done.

THE CAPITAL.

Word Sent That the Province Will Look After Flood Sufferers.

Ottawa, June 13.—Premier Davie has telegraphed the British Columbia members to the effect that the province would handle all cases of distress occasioned by the Fraser floods, and no assistance from the Dominion government was wanted. The appeals for aid have been stopped.

Ottawa, June 13.—An order-in-council has been passed authorizing the admission free of duty of the seeds required by the farmers of British Columbia consequent upon the losses through floods.

Hon. Mr. Bowell has informed Senator Macdonald that the government will not make any changes in the Chinese act this session. The question was put on the paper in view of the petition of Chinese residents of British Columbia for the extension of return certificates.

Sir John Thompson will move an amendment to the criminal code, making it an indictable offence for railway conductors to allow passengers to travel free or at a reduced rate.

Mr. Brodeur's motion for a committee of inquiry into the irregularities connected with the civil service examinations last November has been negatived by 68 to 42.

A return just presented states that in view of pending negotiations between the United States and Canada in reference to the Alaska boundary, it is not considered opportune to bring down the papers on the subject.

Mara has done something at last and thereby has demonstrated that the British Columbia representatives are not wholly useless. He has emasculated Mr. Charlton's bill prohibiting the publication of Sunday papers by procuring the insertion of a clause permitting the delivery to subscribers on that day. The Vancouver News-Advertiser and the Victoria Colonist are the only Sunday papers in Canada, so that Charlton's bill was a direct attack on those journals. The amendment, of course, defeats the object of the bill, which was to prohibit the circulation of Sunday papers, for the Sabbatarian from Norfolk does not oppose working on Sunday for Monday morning papers.

FOR THE POOR.

A Novel Scheme to Use Idle Land in Cities.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—Mayor Pingee to-day started a scheme to turn over all the idle land in the city limits to the poor. They are to have it until the end of the crop year to raise whatsoever they please for their sustenance next winter. The mayor will at once set about raising a fund to supply them with tools and all the seeds and plants they need. Within an hour after the project was made public several hundred acres were pledged.

"Next Sunday," he said, "I shall ask every church in the city, Catholic and protestant, to subscribe toward a fund for buying seed and ploughing land. I am satisfied there are 5,000 acres lying idle in the city which can be used. We will have a chance to see how much the churches are sorry for the thousands of idle and needy men in the city. I am going also to the saloons and breweries, and ask them all to help the project along. Then I am going to poor people and say:

"Here is seed and here is a small piece of land, ploughed and ready for seed. The city will protect it. No fence will be needed. Now go in and raise something for your support.'

"Most of the idle men are Poles who are accustomed to land working. If they refuse the help offered them the Poor commission could refuse to give them any more aid."

Mayor Pingee believes the coming winter is going to see much suffering among the poor, and believes in providing a system of relief early.

NOT DEAD YET.

General Ezeta Was Not Killed as Lately Reported.

La Libertad (via Galveston), June 12.—The revolution is practically finished, and all is quiet in LaLibertad under the new state of affairs. The American tars from the Bennington, who did so much to protect the helpless during the change of mastery here yesterday, have re-embarked, leaving only a few mariners behind to guard the consulate and cable station.

General Antonio Ezeta, vice-president of the republic, erroneous reports of whose death have been freely circulated and have been believed by many in La Libertad, appeared here again at the head of a small force of soldiers still loyal to him.

The party comprised seventeen in all, and, as they were being followed by an overwhelming force of victorious rebels, they quickly put out from the shore in lighters of the Bennington, where they asked for refuge from their pursuers.

Captain Thomas was in some doubt at first what he should do in the matter, but when the party of General Gutierrez' men were seen coming out to attack the fugitives he decided to take them aboard.

EARL OF DUNMORE.

The Noble Lord Conceives an Original Idea.

HE INTENDS TO TRAVEL ALL THE WAY

From New York to Paris Without Sea Voyage—Going by Way of Mackenzie River and Behring Straits—He Will Take Notes and Threatens to Write a Book.

San Francisco, June 13.—Earl Dunmore has left for Montreal to arrange with the Hudson Bay company for transportation on the Mackenzie river.

He will endeavor to travel from New York to Paris without going to sea, and will proceed along the Mackenzie river to a point nearest the source of the Yukon. From thence Indians will carry his canoe over the mountains, and he will make his way down the Yukon to Fort St. Michael.

He will then attempt to cross to Siberia on the ice, and if he cannot effect this he will sail across in canoe. On the Siberian side of the Behring sea reindeer teams will be at hand to carry him across Siberia on sleds.

Notes will be made of the trip, upon which he will write the inevitable book when he reaches the end of his journey.

BISHOP SILLITOE'S OBSEQUIES.

All the Arrangements Characterized by Extreme Simplicity.

New Westminster, June 12.—Many more friends called at the See house today to have a last look at the remains of the late lord bishop of Westminster. The dead bishop lies in a plain pine coffin, which is covered with violet cloth, and is dressed in full episcopal robes, in which, as is customary, the body will be buried. His face bears a calm and peaceful expression, indicating that his last moments must have been painless. The arrangements for the funeral were completed to-day. In accordance with his lordship's last wishes on the subject, the funeral services will be unostentatious, and only the plain burial service of the Church of England said. The Lord Bishop of Columbia will officiate, assisted by the Bishop of Colorado and all the clergy of the diocese who have been able to reach the city. The congregation of St. Mary's, Sapperton, have taken charge of the grave. The body was removed from the See house to the cathedral this evening, when the opening sentences of the burial service were said by Archdeacon Woods. The body will be watched continually during the night. To-morrow morning at 8.30 o'clock there will be a celebration of the holy communion and the choral service at 9 o'clock. After the funeral service, which commence at 11.30 a.m., the body will be taken to the Church of England cemetery at Sapperton and interred there. The coffin will be carried to the cemetery by relays of bearers.

EVADING A CRUISER.

A Yankee Fishing Skipper Would Not Permit His Vessel Seized.

Gloucester, Mass., June 12.—Captain Day, of the schooner Loring B. Haskell, from the banks, Saturday, June 2, states that he ran into Canso for supplies. One of the men wanted to remain but the captain would not consent. For revenge, he believed the man told the Canadian authorities that the Haskell had shipped men in violation of the law. The cruiser Vigilant was notified to seize the vessel. As the Haskell was passing Port Hawkesbury the Vigilant's boats ordered her to stop. As Captain Dey had a perishable cargo he refused to obey the order. The Vigilant fired three shots at the fleeing schooner. She did not stop and in an hour left the cruiser far astern.

Y. M. C. A. Delegates Visit Windsor.

London, June 12.—The delegates to the international conference of the Young Men's Christian Association visited Windsor Castle to-day, and were received at the station by the mayor and the municipal authorities. The farewell meeting of the delegates took place here in Windsor park. During the afternoon a number of the delegates visited Eton college and viewed the ancient school rooms, chapel and library. Subsequently the convention reassembled, and after passing a resolution expressing gratitude to the Queen for the hearty reception, Rev. Dr. Cuyler pronounced a benediction and the convention was declared dissolved.

Recalls an Awful Accident.

Chicago, June 12.—One of the crew of a dredging company, while working in the lake off the foot of Addison street, has raised a rusty boiler which belonged to the ill-fated passenger steamer Lady Elgin, and which recalls one of the worst disasters ever known on the Great Lakes. The vessel collided with the steamer Augusta in September, 1860, and immediately sunk. It is estimated that four hundred persons out of the seven hundred passengers she carried were drowned.

A Lover's Despair.

New York, June 12.—Last Thursday afternoon Miss Laura Wheelwright, daughter of John W. Wheelwright, of the firm of Wheelwright, Eldridge & Co., commission merchants, was married to George Herbert Wendler, of Surrey, England, in Boston. On the same day Benjamin F. Cox, 30 years old, a member of the Boston Athletic association and the Puritan and Eastern Yacht clubs, committed suicide. He was in love with the girl.

FAIRLY RUSHED THINGS.

United States Senate Shows Some Startling Activity.

Washington, June 12.—The progress made by the senate in the consideration of the tariff bill is amazing to those who had not any idea of what was going to happen. The spirits and wine schedule got through in less than three hours, with little discussion and no serious friction. The cotton schedule had been looked forward to as the one around which the fight would rage longest and fiercest, but paragraph after paragraph was put through without question or discussion.

It was not until the last paragraph was disposed of that the rapidity of the pace gave a chance to Dolph (Rep.) of Oregon to catch his breath and to express his amazement at this legislative rapid transit. Ten pages of the bill, he said, had been rushed through in thirty minutes without a single New England senator opening his mouth in opposition. Their silence, he thought, was significant, a mystery which puzzled the senator from Oregon, but was dissipated when Aldrich of Rhode Island confessed that the schedule had been most scientifically framed and that the finance committee deserved the thanks of cotton manufacturers for having consented to arrangements which, while duties were not high enough, were perfectly satisfactory.

The jute section, which was next in order, had not such smooth sailing as the cotton section had, which fact provoked a sarcastic remark from Hale (Rep.) of Maine, that the finance committee had not paid so much attention to pacification of the manufacturers of burlaps as to that of the manufacturers of cotton. There were some amusing passages in the discussion over the collar and cuff paragraph, but the committee on amendments carried it without its opponents being numerous enough to second a call for the yeas and nays. Then the jute section was finished and the wool section taken up for to-morrow, when Quay is to deliver another instalment of his speech begun April 10.

Several members of the house were in an ill humor, so that requests for the consideration of private bills by unanimous consent, to which the first half hour is usually devoted, were met by a demand for the regular order, and no bills passed. A resolution introduced by Bailey (Dem.) of Texas was reported and agreed to, providing for the printing of six thousand copies and the compilation of messages, proclamations and inaugural addresses of presidents from 1787 to 1894. The rest of the day was devoted to District of Columbia bills. These were discussed, but no conclusion being reached on any, a vote developed no quorum and the house adjourned.

A BAD MAN.

Robs His Working Companion and Afterwards Shoots Him.

Reading, Cal., June 12.—Yesterday morning, near Lewistown, Trinity county, W. G. Eddinger, who was driving a team for Jose Ellery, accidentally got his wagon off Rush creek grade, and while in that predicament Otho Hampton, another teamster for the same party, and who had been to Weaverville and unloaded, came along and assisted Eddinger in getting the wagon on the grade and to Weaverville, both travelling together until about noon, when the stopped to eat lunch. Without any words, Eddinger drew his pistol and commanded Hampton to give him what freight money he had collected, and also telling him he could take charge of his team, and started away on foot. Hampton drove to the nearest telegraph office and wired his employer what had transpired. Ellery ordered the man to go to Douglas City bridge and watch for the robber, while he himself went to Lewistown bridge. About dark the robber came on the bridge at Lewistown, and when Ellery stopped him, demanding the return of his money, Eddinger drew his pistol and fired, hitting him in the stomach, from which wound he will probably die. The robber is at large.

PRENDERGAST'S CASE.

Again Continued by Agreement of Attorneys.

Chicago, June 12.—Additional complications may arise in the case of Assassin Prendergast. Judge Chetlan is not sitting in the criminal court, and the case came up to-day. Judge Payne, when a continuance was agreed upon and was submitted to him, refused to enter the order, saying he knew no reason why a continuance should be granted. The matter went over temporarily. Prendergast insisted on making a speech. "I am defendant here," he said. "I want no continuance. The question to be determined is my guilt or innocence; not my insanity. Murder is a malicious taking of life; that is a crime I have not committed." The prisoner was thrust into a chair by the bailiffs.

APPEAL DENIED.

"Emerald" Opium Smugglers Will Go to San Quentin.

San Francisco, June 12.—A motion that the opium smugglers, Thomas, Greenwald and Wichman, be admitted to bail pending an appeal to the supreme court of the United States from the judgmen consigning them to San Quentin for six years each, was denied by Judge Morrow to-day. It was held that there was no ordinary circumstance in the case, as contemplated by law, which would warrant admission to bail. The men will, in consequence of this ruling, be compelled to wear the prison garb for a long time, even if they should succeed in obtaining a reversal of the sentence.

FRYING PAN TO FIRE.

A Young Man Whose Sins Came Right Home to Him.

San Francisco, June 12.—H. B. Leroy, a young man who has been serving a two and a half years' sentence for forgery, was arrested this morning just as he stepped outside the gates of San Quentin penitentiary. Two persons were waiting to meet Leroy for entirely different purposes. One was his mother and the other was Deputy Sheriff John McKnight of Marion county, Oregon, with a warrant and requisition papers, upon which he proposed to take the youthful ex-convict to Oregon to stand trial upon another charge of forgery. The mother had in some way learned of the intention of the Oregon authorities and it was her purpose to get her son, who is but a boy in years, away from the penitentiary in time to avoid the service of legal process. In this she was defeated, however, for the Oregon officer was on hand in time to prevent the prisoner from enjoying his freedom. Deputy Sheriff McKnight brought his prisoner to this city and placed him in the prison at the new city hall for safe keeping. Leroy was 18 years old when he was convicted in Tehama county for forgery. The offense for which he is to stand trial in Oregon was committed before that time, but the precise character of the crime is not known at police headquarters. Neither Leroy nor his mother, who visited him at the city prison, is willing to make any statement as to the facts and the warrant does not disclose particulars.

A BANK DECISION.

A Ruling That Has Important Bearings on Banking.

San Francisco, June 12.—The supreme court has decided that Judge Hebbard had no right to appoint a receiver in the case brought by the attorney-general to wind up the affairs of the People's Home Savings Bank. Under ordinary circumstances this decision would mean a great deal to the depositors. It will mean that the present board of directors have the sole power to take possession of the assets and distribute them, or if they chose they could elect new directors to undertake this important business. It happens, however, that all proceedings are barred just at present by an appeal to the supreme court on one of the numberless bank cases. It is that of Knight against the creditors and stockholders of the corporation. Mr. Sheehan is acting as receiver in that case too, and proceedings are under way to oust him. Until that appeal is decided by the supreme court the present board of directors will not have full sway.

JUDGE JENKINS' ORDER.

Appeal of Northern Pacific Employes being Argued.

Chicago, June 12.—The appeal of the employes of the Northern Pacific railway from the injunction issued by Judge Jenkins of the United States court at Milwaukee last winter, was argued before the United States court of appeals today. The receivers were represented by ex-Senator Spooner, who wrote the famous injunction, and George P. Miller. The employes and labor organizations were represented by L. W. Harper, Chas. Quarles and T. W. Spence. The court was composed of Justice Harlan and Judges Woods and Bunn. Each side was given three hours to present its case. The court will grant the original request of the receivers' attorneys to certify the case to the supreme court or decide as the judges see fit.

Morocco's Monarch no More.

London, June, 1.—Advices received here report that the Sultan of Morocco, Muley Hassan, died on June 7, and that the army proclaimed his son, Muley Hassan his successor. Private advices say the Sultan was murdered. Muley Hassan was 55 years old. His demeanor was grave and majestic, as becomes a man knowing the importance of his double character of emperor and pontiff and a successor of the Prophet, of which he was a descendant. He was endowed with an extraordinary degree of firmness. On account of the intolerance prevailing in the Moorish empire, the function of a religious chief is the most important of those which belong to the sultan. Muley Hassan observed religiously all religious practices of the Moslem liturgy. Like all the members of his court he arose at 3 a.m. to make the first prayers. Most of his subjects considered him more of a god that a sovereign.

DYNAMITING BRIDGES.

Miscreants Work Havoc on Railroads in the States.

Birmingham, Ala., June 12.—At an early hour this morning unknown persons placed dynamite under the big iron bridge on the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham railway near Carbon Hill and blew it up and shortly afterwards the iron trestle a few miles east of that place was also blown up. This makes five railway bridges burned or blown up within the past five days.

Massillon, Ohio, June 12.—Early this morning the bridge on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, located at Howells coal company's east of Grenville mine, was blown up with gunpowder and the ruins then burned. The road is blocked and cannot be opened for hours. Another bridge was destroyed this morning on the Cleveland, Canton & St. Hein railway, just north of Navarre.

Zanesville, Ohio, June 12.—Two attempts were made last night by striking miners to wreck Burlington & Ohio trains at Rock Cut, four miles east of this city. The obstruction was discovered and removed just before No. 47 came along. Had it remained there there would have been a terrible wreck, as No. 47 was crowded with passengers. Another obstruction was discovered at Coal Dale, a short distance east of where the first one was found.

Another Missing Ship.

San Francisco, June 12.—Shipping and insurance men are anxious about the safety of the British ship Colintriave, which left Newcastle on March 16 for San Francisco with a cargo of Wallsend coal. The vessel has been out 87 days on a trip ordinarily made in from 60 to 70 days. On June 7 the British ship Swanmore arrived here and reported seeing some wreckage about 190 miles north of San Francisco, which was probably all that was left of the long overdue Senegal. When the Swanmore passed the wreckage the Colintriave was about ten miles away and coming along with all sails set and apparently all well on board. A close watch has been kept for the ship ever since, but so far she has not appeared, and the belief is gaining ground that she has met with disaster.

A VISIT TO CARIBOO.

Col. Tracy Talks About What He Saw In the Gold Fields.

City Engineer Tracy, of Vancouver, described a recent visit to the gold fields of Cariboo to a Vancouver reporter. He was a passenger on the last train through before the flood, got out at Ashcroft on a Monday morning early and had breakfast at a place called Hat Creek, 15 or 16 miles out.

"From there we arrived at Clinton, had dinner and at night we stayed at the 83-mile house, 68 miles from Ashcroft. On the Tuesday we struck the 108-mile house and rode 25 miles through the woods to the Half Way house and the following day we arrived at the place where Armstrong's men were working on the Horse Fly mine constructing the piping and the ditching, some 12 miles of the latter. This piping carries the water over several hills and depressions and is then continued by the ditch. Here a number of Japanese are employed and McGillivray has some 30 men at work. We met 160 more men from Kamloops to Vancouver going to work on the ditching. The pipes are trimmed, sheared and punched in the open air and the workmen look the picture of strength and health. I was much surprised at the nature of the country up there. After you get beyond Clinton it is practically a plain not at all rough in character. A great proportion of the country is splendid for cattle raising and some of the valleys and lakes are really beautiful. The small valleys seem to be well watered, though the brush is rather scrubby. We went over the old Harper claim and the men in charge showed us the hole out of which $75,000 of gold was taken some years ago, and which has not been worked since. The Horse Fly company are doing excellent work. They have a number of good log huts neatly constructed, blacksmith's shops, stables and stores, etc., and are getting in their sluices from the river. At present a temporary supply of water is obtained from a small lake, which is being used to clean out the bed in order to get the sluices in and when they get this unlimited supply from Mussel Creek they will go ahead. The country simply swarms with game, ducks, geese and rabbits in countless numbers and I could easily have shot a couple of hundred as we went through, though at this season they are not very good to eat. There are also lots of deer in this region. We were told of an Indian across the river from Armstrong's camp who shot the week before a grizzly said to be the largest ever seen in Cariboo, together with three of four black bears, but we were not able to inspect these as the boats were gone and the Horse Fly rive four feet higher than it has ever been known. Numerous parties of eager prospectors are making their way through and we met one particular company of eight going up the Peace river with two years' supplies on pack horses and ponies. On the return journey we met a young fellow on the stage from the Chilcotin country who is starting hydraulic mining up there. There is a big one at Barkerville, Williams Creek and the South Forks, the well-known Cariboo Hydraulic Mining Co.'s claim, over which Mr. Hobson is presiding. Every miner in the neighborhood, without exception, declares this to be exceedingly rich, and the general opinion is that it will yield an enormous quantity of gold. We were shown some samples and can vouch for their richness. The return trip was commenced a week ago Sunday, and on that day we rode 51 miles through the woods and five miles from our destination for the night we were caught in the biggest thunderstorm I have ever seen in this country and in fact the only one deserving the name. The lightning was of extraordinary vividness and great beauty. The storm seemed to converge from three different points and to strike the valley. By making the trip through in one day we emerged on the stage line that night and taking the stage arrived at the 83-mile house on Monday and on Tuesday night got down to Ashcroft where we found the Thompson river foaming and all the bridges carried away, so that we could only cross by means of a canoe. There were eight passengers on the stage and they expressed no sort of objection to our making the trip first, which we did safely, the spice of danger rendering it more pleasant than otherwise."

THE KOREA INSURRECTION.

Collisions Between the Government Forces and Rebels.

The Japan Mail of May 28 says: Accordance to the latest correspondence published in the Japanese papers the trouble in Korea seems to be developing more and more importance. At present the disturbance appears to be confined principally to Zenra Do and Chusei Do, but news of more or less disorder is reported from other localities, so that many people fear lest the whole peninsula may ere long be plunged in one vast revolutionary war. The insurgents in Zenra Do are said to include a large number of gamblers, robbers, and other lawless characters, but the forces gathered together in Chusei Do belong to quite another category. The latter are said to consist of respectable people and to be under admirable control. On the whole, the people now in arms against the Soul government are reported to be conducting themselves with moderation and even benevolence towards the population. They never levy contributions upon peaceful folks; they pay handsome prices for whatever they take from private people, and they maintain themselves by seizing whatever government property they can lay their hands on. For the present, instead of hurrying in the direction of Soul, the insurgents are said to be busily engaged in accumulating stores of provisions, arms and ammunition, and in winning the hearts of the people in general.

Accounts differ as to the number of men in arms against the Soul government. According to the Nichi Nichi Shimbun's correspondent, the Togaku-to malcontents, who constitute the backbone of the insurrection, are estimated to be about 4000 strong, while the total number of insurgents is put at more than 10,000. They are armed in various ways, some with matchlocks and others with swords and spears. The number of matchlocks is believed to be about 3000 in all. Of these some 2000 have been in the possession of the insurgents from the beginning, while the remainder were obtained by plundering armories belonging to the government. About 100 men are mounted and serve as scouts. From the manner in which the insurgent forces march and fight, the Japanese newspaper correspondents infer that they must have been drilled in modern style. Some writers even state that several Japanese are among the rebels.

Certain local functionaries and military officers have joined the rebels. Kim Seiho, the commander of the garrison at Zenshu, having long been known to be in communication with the Togaku-to, was put under arrest. Being, however, a man of extraordinary bodily strength, he forced his way out of the prison, but was soon overtaken by a party of soldiers and despatched on the spot.

The first collision between the government troops and the rebels took place at Reisan on the 28th of March (Korean calendar), resulting in a victory for the former. The next encounted was on the 1st of May (April 2 of Korean calendar), at a place called Hakusan. This time the government troops were completely routed. They were foolish enough to be deceived by a party of rebels who retreated in disorder, and drew their pursuers deep into the enemy's camp, where they were suddenly surrounded on all sides. More than two hundred of them were killed or wounded, and the rest fled in all directions. This disastrous defeat is said to have demoralized all the government forces.

The troops, about 800 strong, sent to Gunsan on board the three Chinese men-of-war, landed there in safety on April 7th (Korean calendar), after hesitating for some time, and the Chinese war vessels returned to Ninsen on the 16th inst. The officer in command of one of these ships, Hei-yen, is said to have explained that the Chinese resident, Mr. Yuan, was unwilling to place the war vessels of his country at the service of the Korean government, but that he had finally to give his consent in consequence of the latter's incessant solicitation.

The insurgents are reported to have succeeded wonderfully in winning the sympathy and confidence of the people in general. Even in Soul two-thirds of the population are said to be friendly towards the rebels. Intense excitement prevails among official classes in the capital.

A Nagasaki dispatch of May 29 says: The Togaku-to partisans are becoming stronger in numbers, and although they are not yet attempting to invade the Korean capital, great anxiety is felt among officials as to the result of the insurrection. Business in Genra province is suspended. A report received by the Kencho states that further measures should be taken to protect Japanese subjects. The Nagasaki local authorities have requested the central government to take further steps in the matter.

A dispatch from Soul, May 27, says: A fight between Togaku-to men, led by Tei Ka, and the government soldiers took place at Konan on the 25th. Over two hundred of the troops were killed and 32 captured, as well as a great quantity of fire-arms and provisions. The government soldiers are now experiencing great distress in consequence of their loss of provisions. Several requests have been sent to the government for relief stores, but none have yet arrived. The soldiers consequently broke into the houses of the common people, and carried away money and rice by force.

PALEOLITHIC MAN.

He Was a Broad-Shouldered Little Cannibal.

Worthington P. Smith, in his new book "Man the Primeval Savage," summarizes in a vivid chapter the surroundings and general appearance of the paleolithic men. The forests, which then so extensively covered the British Isles, harbored animals which they had ever to guard; the lion, wildcat, bear, wolf, rhinoceros and hyena were among the most terrible of them, and the elephant, mammoth, hippopotamus and bison were no doubt to be feared. From the bones that have been found it is noticeable that these earliest known men were shorter in stature, broader in the back and less upright than the men of the present day; but it is not clear to knowledge how Worthington Smith has discovered that the hair which covered them was a bright chestnut red. The forehead receded and the heavy overshadowing brow suggest a creature but little removed from the arboreal ape in his habits. Fear of their common enemies, those animals which would attack stray men who were isolated from their fellows and therefore helpless, obliged them to live in social communities, and to give one another aid and protection to some extent. But reasoning from the condition of existing savages, Mr. Smith infers that the feebler among them were recognized by the rest as being useless to keep and unprofitable to provide for, so that, if any one of their companions was badly injured by accident or attacked by disease, he was hunted away by the rest for the wolves to rid them of him or deliberately killed. Another marked resemblance to animal habits is their apparent neglect of the dead, unless they burned them; for if any deliberate burial occurred it is singular no traces have survived. Possibly, Mr. Smith hints, they were cannibals, and not only the dead but the weaker living among them became at times victoms to the stronger. Their chief labor was the manufacture of their implements of flint, which were chopped out of the stones in the shape of knives, arrow heads and such weapons. It is curious to notice that these were entirely fashioned by dexterous chipping, and this was a matter of considerable difficulty when the projected implement was to have a keen knife edge; the idea of rubbing one flake on another stone to produce a sharp edge did not occur to man until the neolithic time. These, with the branches of trees, cut out of sticks, formed their only tools and weapons against wild animals. With such flint tools they could only hunt the smaller animals for food, but would possibly only devour the larger ones when they found them already dead.

KENTUCKY COMPLIMENTS.

Breckinridge's Opponent Gives His Vocabulary an Airing.

Lexington, Ky., June 12.—About 6000 strangers were here to-day to hear W. L. Owens and Evan Settle, the candidates for congress in opposition to Col. Breckinridge. They spoke in the opera house to a crowd only measured by the walls. Owens made several allusions to Col. Breckinridge, but made no new attack. He said, however, that he stood by every word uttered in his famous Paris speech, when he attacked Breckinridge bitterly. He said that if anybody took offence at what he said he wanted that person to come to him like a man and not sneak off behind that long-eared, long-haired, irresponsible, crazy brute, Charles C. Moore. Moore published in his prohibition paper last week several columns against Owens, and this allusion is a reflection against Breckinridge, who is said by the Owens men to have furnished Moore with the information.

Settle and Owens spoke again to-night at the court house.

Chicago, June 12.—To-day the month expired which had been given W. C. P. Breckinridge to reply to the charges made by the Union League club of this city and no word having been received from him, his name was dropped from the honorary membership roll of the club.

TO THE ELECTORS —OF— Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen:—As I am a candidate to represent you in the Provincial Legislature, I wish to give my views on some of the important questions of the day.

I hold that each man is entitled to all his labor produces; therefore, no tax should be levied on the products of labor.

The road tax, the provincial revenue tax, personal property tax, mortgage tax, taxes on improvements, and all taxes on useful trades and industries are unjust and should be abolished.

To carry out these principles, I am in favor of raising all public revenues for provincial and municipal purposes by a tax upon land values, irrespective of improvements.

This tax would lower rents, raise wages, encourage industry, equalize opportunities, and thereby benefit all.

The present electoral system gives unequal representation, and calls for legislative reform.

The monetary deposit now required from candidates for the provincial legislature should be abolished.

I am in favor of passing laws to exclude Asiatic labor from government works and prohibiting any further Asiatic immigration. When Chinese labor can be excluded from any works, by inserting clauses to that effect in charters and grants, it should be done.

I advocate a reduction in the hours of labor; an eight hour law should be established by the government and enforced on all government works.

I am in favor of establishing a Small Debts Court, to enable merchants and others to collect accounts with as little loss of time and money as possible.

I am an independent supporter of the opposition, because I feel they are inclined to go farthest in the direction of the reforms which I advocate; at the same time I wish it distinctly understood I am for measures and not for men.

As canvassing by a candidate is, in my opinion, contrary to the spirit of the ballot, it is not my intention to personally ask for votes. Trusting you may deem me a fit and proper person to represent you in the legislature, I hereby earnestly solicit your votes and influence. Faithfully yours,

W. G. CAMERON.

TO THE ELECTORS —OF— Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen:—The general election now being near at hand, and being a candidate for re-election, I wish to place my views on some of the questions commanding your attention, as well as to intimate the line of action which I shall take and the measures which I shall, if opportunity permits, support and maintain.

The party now in power have practically held office for over eleven years. Their policy has been an indefinite one on many of the questions requiring consideration. At the last general election the Opposition advocated reform in the land laws of the province, and have been able to make some important changes.

The privilege of allowing speculators and non-residents to take up large tracts of land has been taken away and the lands are now available for actual settlers.

By the efforts of the Opposition the assessment of the wild land has been much increased; the ad valorem principle of assessment according to the land value, is now the law.

There are two essential matters yet to be carried out in connection with the encouraging of agricultural settlers. First, the surveying of available lands for such a purpose and giving the necessary information by the Lands and Works Department; second, the making of roads to such settlements, so that the farmer may be able to bring his produce to market—such a policy as this must be adopted in order to develop and encourage the farming industry of our province. By so doing we shall add much to our wealth and prosperity.

The railway policy of the Government has not been a business-like one. From the time of the grant given to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway down to the Nakusp & Slocan deal, the interests of the province and the welfare of the people have not been well guarded. On the one hand a corporation receives a large subsidy and an immense tract of land, free from taxation for ever; on the other, a private company is subsidized by guaranteeing the bonds to the full cost of the road as well as interest on the same for twenty-five years. One cannot but come to the conclusion that a Government policy of such character is likely to bring the credit of the province into disrepute.

Monopolies of any kind are to be deplored, but monopolies backed by Government aid and support are often the most difficult to overcome. Government aid to such an extent as has been given in the instances referred to, precludes other roads from being assisted or built. As an instance of this we recognize the difficulty the British Pacific Railway will have in dealing with the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway and its existing rights. Thus by the action of the present Government in the past it looks as if the province were at the mercy of ringsters and monopolists who are despoiling the people of their heritage.

I am opposed to the executive using its power to make large appropriations of money by special warrant for roads, streets, bridges, and public works, without first submitting such to the legislature. Such a course of action leads to favoritism and corruption and is not in accord with the principles of constitutional government.

I have advocated, and will continue to do so, the reduction of taxation on improvements and the abolition of taxes on mortgages. The latter impost presses doubly hard upon the borrower, and the repeal of this law would be in the interest and for the advancement of the province.

The practice followed on the eve of a general election of promising aid to public works and institutions by members of the executive should be condemned, as it is attempting to bribe the electors with their own money. The independent electors should answer this by sending men to the Legislature who will do their utmost to remove such ministers from power.

During the past four years legislation has been brought about, chiefly by the Opposition, in reforming the School Law. The residents of the cities have now greater power over the management of their schools, and more is yet desired in this particular. I shall use my best endeavors to bring this about, so that our schools may be free of all political influences.

I have also advocated further restriction on Chinese immigration and the employment of Chinese by any company seeking charters or grants from the Legislature. I have advocated and still maintain that a clause should be inserted in all bills giving such privileges or aid to prevent the employment of this class of labor.

I also have advocated the necessity of employing residents of the province instead of non-residents or foreigners in the prosecution of all works or contracts let by the government.

It is impossible in an address of this kind to touch on all questions affecting the province. I hope, however, before long to have the opportunity of addressing the electors in public meeting, at which time I will refer to matters more extensively.

Hoping that my past record as a representative in the Local Legislature has been acceptable to you, I again seek your votes and support.

I remain, yours respectfully,

G. L. MILNE.

TO THE ELECTORS —OF— Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen—As a candidate in the coming contest for legislative honors, and particularly as a labor candidate, I take this method of expressing some of the views I hold relating to the good government of the province.

I believe that heretofore, although workingmen have assisted largely in electing representatives to the legislature and parliament, their interests have not, generally speaking, been advanced or guarded; but on the contrary laws have been enacted whereby the greater burden of taxation has been placed upon the shoulders of the workingman, and monopolies have been fostered to the detriment of their interests and the country at large. Too many professional men and capitalists have made or influenced the making of our laws, and I believe in men being represented in the councils of our land by men from their own ranks—men who are not only in sympathy with them, but who are in touch with their necessities.

I believe that every man is entitled to an equitable share of what his labor produces; also that enterprise and ability to organize and direct labor to the accomplishment of large undertakings deserves special consideration, but not to the extent that it is often accorded by the governments of the present day.

I would advocate a reduction in the hours of labor, and consider an eight hour law should be established by the government and enforced on all government work.

Also the establishment of a provincial labor bureau for the purpose of gathering reliable information on the labor situation, so that intending immigrants may be made fully acquainted with the true state of the labor market in the province.

I believe that as a class the Chinese are injurious to the province, as they undoubtedly ridicule our religion and laws; introduce loathsome diseases and demoralizing habits; they trade exclusively among themselves and send what wealth they may acquire from our province to enrich their own empire. I believe the government should make every effort to lessen the evil which is the result of the presence of Coolie labor, and in the absence of laws similar to those in force in Australia, our government should, when granting privileges to companies and corporations, insist on a clause in the charters granted prohibiting the employment of Asiatic labor by such corporations or companies.

I advocate a liberal railway policy, being sure that we must have these most important highways to assist in developing the many latent resources of the province, but am opposed to the granting of monopolies in land for speculative purposes to companies to the exclusion of settlers.

I also believe that all religious questions should be kept out of our schools, being confident that the numerous religious institutions are quite capable of dealing with that matter.

I will more fully express my views on these questions at public meetings to be held. Hoping you can see your way clear to give me your support at the polls, I am,

Yours respectfully,

ARTHUR H. DUTTON.

Victoria, B.C., 11th June, 1894.

P.S.—According to the new act of the local parliament DONORS and SUBSCRIBERS can vote for four members only; the City Council nominate five (5), the local government three (3), and the French Benevolent Society three (3), making a total of fifteen directors.

WAR IN OKLAHOMA.

Excellent Prospects for a Good Deal of Bloodshed.

Wichita, Kans., June 12.—On a telegram from the Rock Island officials the sheriff has sent armed men on a special to Roundsport, Oklahoma, where the building of a railroad was in progress. The men were selected for bravery and heavily armed with Winchesters, and were under command of James Carnes, ex-chief of police, and one of the best known and nerviest officers in the west. Ex-Deputy Sheriff Darnell was another of the party.

Pond Creek, O. T., June 12.—The war which began yesterday is the outcome of the old township dispute. Residents of the government townsite insist upon the railroad stopping trains, and it declines. Yesterday a wagon and team were run down by a freight train, running faster than the city ordinance permitted, when the citizens began tearing up the track. A livestock train came along, the engineer disregarded the danger signal, a train was wrecked and a lot of cattle killed. Later the track was repaired under the protection of United States deputy marshals, and to-day every one is going about armed.

El Reno, O. T., June 12.—The force of deputy marshals from El Reno who went to Pond Creek to protect the railroad property from the townspeople of that city, returned this evening. They report affairs fully as bad as stated, and that a constant patrol of the railroad last night was all that kept the railroad bridge from being burned, as the bridge was already oiled and prepared for the match.

Horses Ridden to Death.

Omaha, June 12.—A special to the Bee from Chadron, Nebraska, says: Much indignation has been aroused here by the knowledge that four of the nine horses that were started in the hundred mile cowboy race are dead from the effects of usage received. One dropped dead on the last mile. An effort was made by the managers to cover up this fact. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of several persons connected with the race.

ONLY AN ILLUSTRATION.

We never make the mistake of expecting either the Colonist or the World to offer an honest interpretation of our words, and therefore we are in no way surprised to find the Vancouver organ thus grossly misrepresenting what we said in respect to the premier's attack on Mr. Foster:

"The Victoria Times in its issue of last Saturday would have its readers believe that Thomas Forster has been a consistent voter in the house of assembly on all questions affecting the Chinese being employed on works for which charters had been asked from the legislature, and in a very ingeniously written article quotes from the journals for 1891 in support of its contention."

Of course readers of the Times know without being told how much falsehood is involved in the World's statements. What we started out to prove, and what we did prove, was that Premier Davie made an untruthful statement in regard to Mr. Forster's votes, with the very unworthy motive of injuring an opponent. His assertion was that Mr. Forster had at every division up to 1892 voted against the anti-Chinese clause, whereas the journals show that at least on four occasions he voted for it, a fact of which the premier can hardly have been ignorant. We have further shown that the World deliberately represented Mr. Forster as having on two occasions voted against the clause, whereas his name appears in the journals on the affirmative side of the list. Now we are not concerned with the defence of Mr. Forster; that gentleman can take good care of himself, as the premier has only too much reason to feel in consequence of their various encounters. But we are concerned with the fact that the premier can so far forget himself and the dignity of his position as to employ the meanest and pettiest sort of falsehood in political warfare. Of the World we should of course expect nothing better, but it might naturally be supposed that the head of a government would have some regard for honor and truth.

ESQUIMALT.

We understand that Mr. D. Cartmel, who was connected with the naval yard, Esquimalt, for five years, and who is well and favorably known in that constituency, has been invited to become an independent candidate for the legislature. The constituency has been represented by Messrs. Pooley and Higgins during two terms, and very naturally the electors are far from being a unit on the selection of those gentlemen for a third term. There is, in fact, a strong feeling that an improvement can be made [illegible] are credibly informed, has the matter under consideration and will give an answer in a day or two.

DANGEROUS SERMONIZING.

It is rather pleasing to see the Colonist these days striving to educate the public on the necessity of morality and purity of conduct among those who control political affairs. From the Sydney Telegraph it quotes a passage apropos of Mr. Mundella's case, in which such sentences as these appear: "The vigilance with which its public men safeguard its public life from taint or sully has been exemplified by the prompt expulsion from their midst, on the rare occasions which have called for action of this kind in England, of the men who have tarnished their reputation with suspicion of unworthy doings." A little of its own moralizing our neighbor adds to this. For instance: "The sentiment which prevents men devoting to places of public trust and honor those who have tarnished their reputation with even the suspicion of unworthy doings is the most effectual check that can be imagined to corruption in public life generally." The Colonist probably does not foresee the application which the public will be very prompt to make of its sermonizings. They will be apt to remember, for instance, that not long ago the premier himself was accused of something very like "unworthy doings" by the now obsequious organ, and they will be likely to draw the lesson that the sentiment which the organ would now cherish is hardly compatible with the retention of this man in office. Then there are the cases of the provincial secretary and the president of the council, whose violations of the rule laid down were so recently exposed. The sentiment of the British public would not have allowed either one of these men to stay in office an hour after the exposure. Australian public opinion showed itself equally severe in the case of men who offended as Mr. Pooley did. It seems to us that the government organ is making trouble for its political masters when it asks the public to judge them by the British and Australian standards.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Examiner says: "The violent outbreak of the Black Death in Hongkong and the Chinese cities will cause a close watch to be kept on the incoming vessels from the Orient. The outbreak exposes San Francisco to the danger of an attack by a disease that has caused the most spectacular epidemics of history. The great plague is the most fatal of diseases. No treatment has been found successful after an attack has once come on, and from one-half to nine-tenths of the persons seized die within a few days. But, terrible as the disease is, it is easy to prevent. The sanitary precautions of cleanliness and ventilation are usually enough to prevent it from getting a foothold. The plague has not visited the western world since the outbreak on the Volga of fifteen years ago, and that was only the milder form, that is usually not fatal. Europe has been comparatively free from the disease since the Moldavian plague of 1770, in which 300,000 persons perished in a few months, but it has existed in Asia in greater or less degree from the earliest times to the present. With proper quarantine and sanitary work there will be no difficulty in keeping the plague from entering San Francisco, even should it be brought across the Pacific, but there should be no lack of vigilance. When it is remembered that in the great plague of London in 1665 there were over 31,000 deaths in a single month in a city but little larger than San Francisco, it will be agreed that there is ample reason for guarding against an invasion." Cities that keep clean are reasonably certain of avoiding visitations of the "Black Death," but those blessed with the presence of Chinese quarters and receiving direct importations of Chinese from Hongkong would do well to keep an eye open for infection dangers.

The government party in Vancouver have prevailed upon Professor Odlum to take the place on the ticket left vacant by Mr. Horne's retirement. It seems that it was only after urgent solicitation that Mr. Odlum consented to come forward as a victim.

IGNORANCE AND INTOLERANCE.

To the Editor: I read the letter of "Kanuck" in this morning's Colonist with a great deal of surprise and not a little regret, for while I do not look for fair play at the hands of the morning paper or any of its correspondents, I did not believe that a covert insult would be offered to either Canadians or British Columbians, if I may be permitted for a moment to make such a distinction. Mr. Cameron spoke of clerkships being filled by comparative strangers to the exclusion of native born citizens, and stated unmistakably that he thought those born in the province should be given a chance, and a first chance, too, if they were qualified to serve the province in any of the positions referred to. He did not speak of the legislature or the representation therein. "Kanuck," for a transparent purpose, distorts Mr. Cameron's remarks. It is not unfair to ask that Canadians born in British Columbia, who have the ability, should be appointed to clerkships in the departments or registry offices. As a British Columbian I protest against the miserable spirit of intolerance and racial prejudice that dictated the letter referred to. There would have been no Norquay premier of Manitoba if this hateful cancer of ignorance had prevailed in that province, and surely British Columbia is not less tolerant and free than the sister province. I have barely hinted at the hint in "Kanuck's" letter, which, although a disguised impertinence, is sufficiently palpable to be understood by every person. It is simply incredible that the letter should have been published in the government organ, whose editor will at once disavow any sympathy with the views of the writer, or, failing to do so, will thereby accept the responsibility.

BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

THE COLUMBIA'S MATCH.

The Cruiser Minneapolis is a Fast and Powerful Boat.

Philadelphia, June 12.—The new United States cruiser, Minneapolis, returned at six o'clock to-night from her preliminary or builder's trial trip. The big cruiser acquitted herself most creditably, proving the equal in every way, if not the superior, of her sister ship, the Columbia. While it is true the Minneapolis did not equal the record of 22.87 knots an hour made by the Columbia on her official trip, she did better than her sister ship did on the preliminary trial of the latter, the speed of the Minneapolis being 21.75 knots, while the speed of the Columbia was 20.98. This was accomplished in spite of the fact that the new ship had to burn anthracite coal, which is regarded as a handicap.

As a result of this trial it is predicted that the Minneapolis will make at least 23 knots on her official trip.

Early this morning anchor was weighed and she steamed straight to sea, a distance of about 30 miles. She then turned and started back for the breakwater again. Now she was under forced draught. The shafts were whirling around at the rate of 16 revolutions per minute. At 11:50 she pulled up again at Cape Henlopen and Captain Sargent said she made 21.75 knots an hour.

ABOUT THE FLOODS.

General Conference Regarding Relief for Sufferers Held at Westminster.

Matters Across Line at Latest Accounts—Northern Pacific Resumes Traffic.

New Westminster, June 13.—The water dropped six inches Monday night at Kats Landing, and up to Tuesday morning the fall at Chilliwack was eighteen inches in all since the flood began to subside. There is no change in the situation, but an improvement is looked for by the end of the week.

New Westminster, June 12.—The water fell five inches here last night, and reports from all up river points are to the effect that the water is gradually receding, but the ground is yet deeply covered. The total fall at Chilliwack has been eighteen inches.

A conference of delegates to discuss relief measures and other matters in connection with the flood met in the board of trade rooms this afternoon. There were present about fifty gentlemen from Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo, the district municipalities and New Westminster. John Wilson, president of the board of trade, occupied the chair, and briefly stated the objects of the meeting. Premier Davie and Hon. J. H. Turner were present. Delegates from the cities expressed their sympathy with the sufferers, after which the district delegates related their flood experiences and described the situation in the submerged localities. By request the premier stated that the government's intention in the matter was to provide where required grain and potatoes for seed, and it might make advances for lumber in urgent cases. The delegates spoke warmly of the government's action, and particularly commend Col. Baker's work.

An executive committee to superintend the general relief work was appointed, consisting of the mayors and presidents of the boards of trade of the different cities; also D. Robson, Westminster, William Templeton and A. D. Salisbury, Vancouver.

Vancouver, June 12.—Chief Engineer Peterson, who has reached here after an inspection of the line damaged by the floods, says that although the repairs needed to the railway are very extensive, owing to the number of bridges and culverts and the long stretches of track which have been washed away, and it will therefore be a considerable time before the necessary repairs are completed, still it is hoped by means of transfers to have passengers brought through in a day or two. Mr. Peterson has carefully examined the whole line as he came along, and a large number of men are already at work upon it.

The danger is not, it is feared, by any means over. There is a large volume of water covering the Sumas and Matsqui prairies, and its only outlet is by the Fraser river. If hot weather ensues the flood will be augmented by a still greater torrent, which the channel of the Fraser will be unable to carry off. If the weather continues cool the water will subside gradually.

As to the cause of the present phenomenal rise. There was an exceptionally heavy snowfall last winer, which on top of the accumulations of several previous years, was let loose by several days of exceptionally hot weather and chinook winds, which melted the vast accumulations of snow high in the mountains and started the water on its career of destruction. The usual June rise was expected, and would have been enough to contend with, but the people and the railways were entirely unprepared for the large lake transplanted to their midst.

At Chilliwack on Friday last John Edwards, Rifred Unsworts and Thomas Lewis were charged with attempting to cut away the Luk-a-Kuk dam, and were committed for trial without bail. The presiding magistrates were G. R. Ashwell and S. Mellard. The accused are now in the provincial jail in this city. It is alleged that these men, who are well-known farmers, had been working on the dam trying to break it ever since the flood had commenced, and that had their efforts succeeded the course of Vedder creek would have been diverted into the Luk-a-Kuk, with the results that the lands now subjected to overflow on Vedder creek would have been freed from water; the lands of Luk-a-Kuk, a most flourishing section of Chilliwack, would have been overflowed instead. There has been trouble for years over this log jam. One section of the community is anxious to see it removed and the other equally anxious to keep it there.

Portland, Oregon, June 12.—Heavy rains and cold weather interfered with the amusement of boat riding in the flooded streets to-day. Both had a good effect in checking melting snow, causing a subsidence of the flood. The Snake river fell a foot and six-tenths at Riparia, while the Columbia fell a foot at Umatilla and the Dalles. The Willamette fell three inches here to-day. Estimates of damage to merchants by water in this city have been greatly exaggerated. So far as can be ascertained the total damage to stock will be less than fifteen thousand dollars. The damage to buildings and wharves cannot be estimates until the water subsides. The actual loss of merchants is in moving goods and loss of business, which, from present indications, will be less than one hundred thousand dollars. The loss of business is due principally to the refusal of the railroads to accept freight, which has forced fruit dealers to break contracts with eastern buyers. The upper decks of several wharves are now above water, and boats which have been docking at the city levee ever since the flood began have now returned to the old landing places. A heavy fall in the river is looked for to-morrow.

Though by no means as rapidly as desired, yet the Willamette continues to decline. At eight o'clock this morning the gauge registered just 32 feet. During the 24 hours ending 8 o'clock a.m. the river fell 0.2 of a foot. Since last Thursday, when the maximum height was reached, up to this forenoon, the waters have receded just one foot. From 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. to-day, the river fell 0.1 of a foot; to 2 p.m. there was a fall of another 0.1 of a foot. At Umatilla in the past 24 hours the Columbia has fallen 0.4 of a foot. At Riparia the Snake has fallen one foot in the past 24 hours. To-day freezing weather prevailed at Baker City. Through the country drained by Columbia and tributary rivers the temperature is below 40 degrees. This cold weather will prevent a further melting of the snow for the time being and allow the water now present to run off, which will make a more rapid fall from the height from and after Thursday next. The river at Portland may fall four feet during the next seven days. As the water slowly recedes the effects of the flood begin to show themselves. The principal damage is to elevated roadways and houses in the low flats along the river that are breaking up and will require extensive repairs. A trip along the water front in a boat shows that the flood is playing havoc with many of the oldest structures, some of which look as if they had been unsettled in such a way that they will break up entirely when they settle.

Seattle, June 12.—The Great Northern railroad brought a delayed passenger train in from Leavenworth, east of the Cascades, yesterday. The train was in charge of Conductor Turner and was one that left St. Paul on the 21st of May. It brought mail of that date to the city. There were no delayed passengers because these had been brought in some time ago by stages of handcar and train service where it was possible.

A rather discouraging condition of things exists over at Leavenworth, and the town is short on provisions, lumber, etc. G. Revolin, a mining man of Leavenworth, was a passenger on the train, and he said they were about out of such things, although the Great Northern had been sending over a little freight. They had had no papers over there for two weeks and had lost track completely of the outside world. The mining interests were suffering for want of lumber to carry on fluming, etc.

The people in many instances are so close run for provisions that they cannot divide with those who actually run out. Revolin was up in the Peshastin district, one of the best gold sections in the state, but the scarcity of money and blockade of traffice has combined to put a cessation to all work for the time.

There was some talk of the company sending out a train to-day to Leavenworth, but at the general offices of the company there was no assurance given that such would be the case. The tracks of the company between this city and Leavenworth are in first-class condition, and there is no snow of any consequence along the switchback.

Superintendent Copeland, of the Great Northern shore line, went up to Brownsville yesterday to see what the condition of the road is up there, and learn if possible about the time yet required for the water to leave the track in the low lands near the Fraser.

On the Skagit the company is working 125 men with gravel trains and it is estimated that it will require them at this work for 10 or 12 more days to put the road in tip top condition. The road across the Nooksack has never been disturbed and is in fine shape. The company is still operating trains from Seattle to near Brownsville without interference.

Leavenworth, June 12.—The first train on the Great Northen for 16 days left here this morning for Seattle. There will be no train service between here and Spokane for at least three weeks. Several miles of track between here and Wenatchee is entirely washed out. It is stated that there 200 men at work near Mission rebuilding that portion of the road. It is the intention of the Great Northern to run a "mixed" train service between here and Seattle, which will give us three trains each week.

Seattle, June 12.—The Canadian Pacific railroad got in about 10 tons of merchandise by boat yesterday from New Westminster. A. D. Scroggy, contracting freight agent for the company here, chartered the Skagit Chief last week and went across after delayed goods for consignees in this city. It consisted of packing house products and general merchandise, and is the first to get in since the flood. It was a timely arrival, for some of the packing companies ran entirely out of goods last week. Mr. Scroggy says that the waters over in the Fraser valley are receding slowly, but not going out as fast as it came up, but that it is surely clearing out and there is a corresponding buoyancy of spirits among the settlers. The company, he says, hopes and expects soon to get in shape to operate its road over the submerged district.

Burned on the Yarra.

Melbourne, June 12.—The British ship Habitanta, Captain Potter, which sailed from New York on January 31 last for Melbourne, has been burned in the Yarra Yarra river. Her cargo was landed before the fire broke out. She was a ship of 1719 tons register.

—B. C. B. G. A. band will be in attendance on the K. of P. excursion to Nanaimo on Sunday, June 17th.

—Some very pretty Japanese crepes to hand, new designs and colors. Our lady patrons will be glad to hear the news. Weiler Bros.

—The annual general meeting of the B. C. Pharmaceutical association will be held at the board of trade rooms to-morrow evening.

—Special facilities for making blank books and doing extra calf and other superior binding at R. T. Williams, 28 Broad street.

—At the meeting of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society held last evening it was decided to send a letter of condolence to the widow and family of the late Joseph Colquhoun.

—The steamship City of Topeka sailed for Alaska at midnight last night. She was at the outer wharf for a time and received a quantity of freight and a number of passengers. Among the passengers from the south were a number of miners returning for the season and others going in for the first time.

—Jean Bermollier and Eugene Delair were convicted in the United States court at Seattle on Monday of smuggling opium, and were each sentenced to three months in the penitentiary at McNeill's Island and $50 fine. Bermollier changed his plea of not guilty to guilty, but it made no difference in his sentence.

—John Randall also known as John Lister, paid $10 in police court this morning for using grossly insulting language thereby smashing public morals by-law. Dan Apples, for being drunk, was fined $5. He will serve it out in jail. G. C. Boyd, charged with drunkenness, failed to appear and his bail of $10 was forfeited.

—News of the overturning of a boat belonging to the United States Coast steamer Patterson at Tongas Narrows, Alaska, and the drowning of three men, has been received. The accident was reported at Sitka the day the City of Topeka sailed for the south, and the names of the unfortunate men were not learned.

—The Canadian-Australian liner Arawa will depart for Hawaii, Fiji and Australia on Saturday. Despite the light movement in freight in the Northwest in the last few weeks the Arawa will have a very fair cargo, and a number of passengers. The cargo will be made up of Sound, Mainland, Island and eastern shipments of general merchandise and lumber.

—The steamship Tacoma sailed from Tacoma for the Orient to-day. She went directly to sea, not stopping here, as there was a desire to hurry her back and then there was not very much freight for her here. The British Columbia freight and passengers were sent to Tacoma from here. She had a big cargo of freight made up largely of flour and feeds. She has a large shipment of tea booked for her next trip this way, as have the other ships of the line.

—At the open meeting of Perseverance lodge last evening, Rev. Cleaver presided and the following programme was rendered: Chairman's address; song, J. G. Brown; address, Rev. J. Calvert, G. S. J. T.; vocal duet, Misses Milne and Baker; address, Rev. P. H. —A dispatch from Portland says: In the United States district court on Monday Judge Bellinger set the date for the trial of a number of persons charged with smuggling opium and Chinese. The second trial of ex-Collector of Customs James Lotan, in whose case the jury disagreed on the first trial, is set for June 25.—The case of C. J. Mulkey, ex-special agent of the treasury, indicted on nine counts for smuggling opium, is set for July 2. The cases of Nat Blum, Seid Back, William Dunbar and others will be tried early in July.

—Grass catchers for lawn mowers at McLennan & McFeely's.

—Guaranteed razors and outfits at Fox's, 78 Government street.

—These warm days a derby hat is felt. Try one of Partridge's straws.

—The members and friends of the W. C. T. U. will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Gordon Grant on the Saanich road to-morrow afternoon.

—The K. of P. will run an excursion train to Nanaimo on decoration Sunday, June 17th. Tickets, $1.50 for return trip.

—The commanding officer's parade of the B. C. B. G. A., ordered for Thursday evening, has been cancelled owing to the turnout in the afternoon to the funeral of the late chief justice.

—I. A. Nadeau, general agent at Seattle for the Northern Pacific, will arrive here this afternoon with a party of 28 American visitors. Hotel accommodations have been secured at the Driard, and it is understood that the party will remain over until to-morrow.

—The C. O. O. F. will give an excursion to Sidney over the Victoria & Sidney railway on Saturday, June 23. There will be a picnic at Sidney, and a very pleasant time is promised to all who attend. The trains will be run at convenient hours both for reaching Sidney and returning at the close of the day.

—The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the B. C. board of trade building association, will be held at 3 p.m., on Thursday, June 21st, inst., at the board of trade building, Bastion street, for the purpose of receiving the directors' report and statement of accounts, and for transacting general business.

—G. G. Chandler, general agent at Tacoma of the Northern Pacific, wired Agent E. E. Blackwood this afternoon that passenger traffic on their line would be resumed on Saturday or Sunday. The information is regarded as reliable as the waters have generally subsided and there has been ample time to make at least temporary repairs.

—The pansy conversazione at the R. E. church, which drew such a large audience last month, will be repeated on Tuesday evening next with an entirely new programme of music and singing. A feature will be made of the refreshments, and delicious ice cream will be provided free. As this will be the last of the season it is expected a large number will attend.

—Eugene Barnard, the young man charged with attempting to commit suicide by jumping off the E. & N. railway bridge, was before Magistrate Macrae this morning for a hearing. He looked rather despondent as he appeared in the dock. The case was remanded until Friday. Barnard was in custody once before for drunkenness and threatened to kill himself.

—The C. P. R. will make every possible effort to get a train through to the east to-morrow and with fair prospects of success as far as can be learned. It will carry the English and European mails received by the Empress of Japan and also the passengers who came by that vessel. The railway officials are trying hard to get the line in condition for business, and assurance is given that to-morrow's train will get through.

—John Ferguson and Frank Porter spent Sunday afternoon and evening very pleasantly at the latter's house on Pembroke street. Early in the game they drank part of a keg of beer and then Ferguson went out and got a couple of bottles of whiskey. As a result they got fighting drunk and Porter chased Ferguson out of the house. Porter failed to properly attire himself for the street, and was fined $20 with $2.75 costs added by Magistrate Macrae this morning. Ferguson, for being drunk, was fined $10 and $2.75 costs added.

—The first of a series of public concerts by the B. C. B. G. A. band will be given this evening at Mount Baker hotel, at Oak Bay, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Below is the programme for the first concert:

Grand Selection from Woolson Morse's Comic Opera "Whang"—arr. by Thomas
God Save the Queen.

—The body of John Gillis, 65 years old, was found in a cabin four miles southeast of Barlow's Cove, on the northeast side of Admiralty Island, Alaska, May 21. A searching party found Gillis' canoe above high tide mark, and on a snow trail also found a bag of mussels. Upon entering the cabin they found the body of Gillis lying on the flood, face upwards, the eyes picked out and the nose eaten off by birds. Gillis had been dead about a month and had evidently starved to death. His mess box contained only a bar of soap and a bag of salt. There were thin blankets on the bed, and his coat was lying at the foot. Gillis came to California in 1852, and went to Cariboo with the gold hunters. Later he mined in Cassiar and in 1882 went to Juneau.

—The school board will not meet this evening.

—A Saanich Indian was fined $5 in the provincial police court yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Macrae.

—The city council will meet this evening, but it is not likely that the site for the electric light works will be selected at the meeting.

—The Japanese mail brought to R. P. Rithet & Co. a letter from Walsh, Hall & Co., in which it is stated that seals are very plentiful in Japanese waters, but are very wild. The vessels are not doing as well as they were at this time last year.

—The annual convention of the American Medical Association met at San Francisco on June 5th to 8th in the Odd Fellows' building, corner Market and Seventh streets. A party of its members are on their way to Victoria via Seattle, and are expected to-morrow or Saturday. The medical men here propose to entertain the representatives when they arrive.

—J. Mulinan, the customs officer at Kyoquot, and F. Jacobsen, of Clayoquot, have been selected by Collector Milne as the men who will seal up the spears of the sealers going to Behring sea. The schooners Favorite, Henrietta, Beatrice, Saucy Lass, Venture, W. L. Rich, Borealis and Ainoko will rendezvous at Kyoquot and the Triumph, Sapphire, Kate, Katharine, Annie C. Moore and Labrador and Clayoquot.

—There will be two marriages at Port Townsend to-day, of young folk well known here. Miss Minnie Hastings, daughter of Oregon Hastings, of this city, and James H. Causten, statistical deputy in the customs house, are the first couple, and Miss Alma Cryderman, cousin of Frank M. Cryderman of this city, and Dr. E. E. Gleason are the second. Mr. Cryderman will be one of the ushers at the church at the wedding of the latter couple.

TRIBUTE OF THE PROVINCE.

The Dead Chief Justice Will be Accorded a Public Funeral To-Morrow.

Details Have Not All Been Arranged But General Plans Have Been Decided On.

The body of Chief Justice Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie will be interred to-morrow afternoon. British Columbia will honor the late chief justice with a public funeral. The details of the funeral as to pall bearers and other matters have not yet been settled, but the general plans are complete. The remains will not be taken to the law courts as was first planned, but will be left at the house, which up to the funeral will be open to the public. The cortege is to leave the house at 2.30 p.m. and proceed to St. John's church, where services will be held, and the funeral oration preached by Rev. Percival Jenns. The casket will then be borne to Ross bay cemetery. The funeral procession will be made up of the B. C. B. G. A. under Major Quinlan, a large naval detachment under Capt. Trench, the R. M. A. commanded by Major Rawstorne, the law society, mayor and aldermen, board of trade, law students, city and provincial officials and others. There will be two bands, that of the B. C. B. G. A. and H. M. S. Royal Arthur. There will also be many private citizens in the cortege. The general directions for the funeral are as follows:

The bands, societies, militia, royal navy and others will assemble on Franklin and Vancouver streets. Those in carriages will assemble on Cook street in the order of precedence as laid down in the programme. The possession will move at the sound of the bugle at half-past two p.m. and will proceed by way of Vancouver, Yates and Douglas streets to St. John's church. Those preceding the hearse will pass the church door up Fisguard street along Blanchard street until the sound of the bugle announces that the remains have reached the church—and will remain at ease whilst the service in the church is being held. At the sound of the bugle the procession will again move on; proceeding by way of Blanchard, Burdette avenue, Bellot and Cook streets, and Fairfield road to the cemetery. On the arrival of the head of the procession at the vault all those preceding the hearse will halt and open rank, and allow the hearse and mourners to pass through, standing at ease until the final rites are concluded.

The board of trade has issued the following:

I am directed by the Council to ask you to meet members of the British Columbia Board of Trade, at the residence, 25 Franklin street, at 2:30 o'clock, p.m., (to-morrow) Thursday, June 14th, for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, Knight, Chief Justice of British Columbia.

F. ELWORTHY,
Secretary.

The members of the Pioneer Society will meet at the hall to-morrow at 1:45 p.m. to attend the funeral of the late Chief Justice Begbie.

The law society will meet in the morning to make final preparations for its part in the funeral.

At a meeting of the St. Andrew's Caledonia society last evening the following resolution was passed: "That this society expresses its regret at the decease of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, chief justice of this province. By his death British Columbia has not only lost one of its pioneers, but a gentleman actively associated with the history of the affairs of this province up to the present time, a brilliant scholar, a man of marvellous memory, a great lawyer, a close, acute reasoner and a strong, impartial judge, a charitable and sincere Christian—a man who perhaps had done more than any other one in British Columbia in the interests of law and order."

The council of public instruction has authorized the closing of the public schools to-morrow afternoon.

WAS HE MURDERED?

The Naked Body of an Unknown Man Found in the Sea Off Macaulay Point.

The Throat is Cut and There is a Wound in the Chest Like a Bullet Hole.

The nude body of an unknown man, who had evidently been murdered, was found floating off Macaulay point this morning. It had been in the water for at least two months, and identification is out of the question. If a murder has been committed it is a mystery which may never be solved. The tug Velos was passing the point early this morning and Captain Cavin saw the body floating a short distance out of the tug's course. The Velos was on her way to Esquimalt, and when she reached there word was sent to the provincial police. It was believed at first it was the body of either F. Allan Vernon or Joseph Colquhoun, who were drowned off the point on Friday night.

Sergeant Langley secured McIntosh's launch, and getting an undertaker's assistant from Hayward's went out to the point. The body was easily found, and a close inspection of it showed that the throat had been cut, there being a gaping hole in it. There was also a mark on the chest looking very much like a bullet wound, and a smaller cut on the left groin not so closely resembling a bullet hole. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and except for a small piece of a blue shirt about the neck the body was naked. It was brought to the city at noon.

The body is that of a man of about middle age, medium height, and of fairly stout build. The face is swollen and rather badly mutilated, and it is next to impossible to say whether the man was dark or fair. Coroner Hasell made a cursory examination of the body, and says that he does not believe the hole in the chest was made by a bullet. As to the wound in the throat he told Mr. Hayward that he was uncertain. Later this afternoon a careful post mortem will be conducted by Dr. Laing, and there will be an inquest this evening. It will be held at provincial police headquarters at 7. The findings will largely depend on the post mortem, as there is no other evidence to submit.

The police have no theory to offer with regard to the case. There is no one missing anywhere in the province whose body this could be, as far as known. It has been suggested that it might be from a passing vessel or from the American shore, but, as stated, there is absolutely nothing known about the case.

A RICH RETURN.

Two Days' Crushing at Rock Creek Gives About $5000.

A letter from Rock Creek, received by a gentleman in this city, says that a two days' run of the quartz mill at the mine in which Mr. Cameron is interested, yielded the magnificent return of 300 ounces. The mill has been in operation several weeks. The plates were yellow with gold when the amalgam was removed.

A copper mine in the same locality was lately sold to a Swansea company for $80,000. Other information of an encouraging character points to a great revival in gold mining in the Rock Creek country.

a stone from a foundation and it is weakened; a picket from a fence gives it an ill appearance, the vacancy destroys its symmetry, and the void is at once apparent. A hole the size of a pin's head in a kitchen utensil detracts from its usefulness, and a spoke from the wheel of a vehicle at once causes comment. It is the same with the mouth of a human being. An absent tooth gives the mouth the appearance of an "aching void." The symmetry is forever gone, the features are distorted, and already the process of decay has begun. In time other teeth follow the first, and there remains a row of blackened and disfigured stumps. Crown and bridge work is a specialty in dental science, and of which Dr. H. B. Findley is a master. By these processes the mouth is made whole, decay of teeth arrested and the features restored to their original appearance.

ORIENTAL NOTES.

Chronicles From the Japanese Press—Progress of Railway Building.

Some railway capitalists have agreed to establish a railway company with a capital of six hundred thousand yen for the purpose of constructing a railway between Hachioji and Yokohama, via Haramachida, a distance of 26 miles.

Business at the Tokyo Rice Exchange has been suspended for the past few days owing to the sharp rise in the value of rice, and unusual quietness is prevailing at Kakiguracho, where the exchange is situated. On the 28th instant a large number of poor persons visited the residences of Messrs. Matsuzawa and Hamano, rice brokers, to ask for donations of rice. Both rice brokers were greatly troubled by the presence of the unexpected visitors, and a number of constables were summoned to the spot. It appears that the gathering arose through a practical joke of some person, who, during the previous day, sent circulars among the poor folk of Shinjiku, Shiba, and Yotsuya to the effect that the great rice brokers would, on the following day, give one sho of rice to every person who applied, being moved thereto by the pitiful condition of many folk brought about by the extraordinary rise in rice.

Further particulars are to hand respecting the condition of the inhabitants of Mina-mura, Miyoshi District, Tokushima Prefecture, who have been suffering for some time through famine. Some 330 persons are helpless through poverty. Of these 184 are youths under fifteen years of age or persons over 60. They are supported with money subscribed by other villagers, while adults are living on roots and barks of plants. The villagers are thoroughly exhausted and not one is able to work. Their faces are greatly changed and their bodies have become swollen. A few of them have already died of starvation, and members of families are being attacked by severe disease. Everything presents a woful appearance. The officials sent from the Kencho have been doing their best to relieve the most needy.

A Chinese native paper says that some 30 odd notables of the town of Yiling, near Yang-chow, where the recent riot against the Scandinavian missionaries happened, having petitioned the prefect of the latter city on the illegality of the presence of the missionaries in the town, that official sent for Mr. Hegelsen's landlord, a man named Gau, intending to ask him a few questions, but this man and his wife sought safety in flight and are said to be under the protection of the missionaries. A dispatch to the consul in charge of the case failed to make the missionaries hand over the two persons, and the prefect of Yang Chow has now petitioned the Viceroy Liu at Nanking, stating that unless the two witnesses be given up and questioned by the local authorities, it is to be greatly feared that the popular sense of justice and right will rebel against the coercive measures of the local authorities on behalf of the missionaries at Yiling, etc.

Details of the recent conflagration at Yamagata state that the flames broke out from a hairdressing saloon at Rosokucho on the 26th instant at 1.15 p. m. Fanned by the gale, the flames quickly spread to the adjacent buildings and then worked their way to Kosho-machi, the prostitute quarter, which was completely consumed. The Komyo and three other temples and the Maruman theatre were also destroyed before the fire reached Nushimachi and Okeymachi. At this time the wind chopped around to another quarter, and the whole of Suwacho, Jizocho, and Mekuracho were soon in a blaze. The fire next destroyed Kikkaichi, Zaimokucho, Yokomachi, Tokocho, Yokacho, Teppocho, Futsukacho and Kuzumicho. The flames continued to rage for over eleven hours and nearly the whole of the town was reduced to ashes. Over one thousand persons were rendered homeless, and passed the night under trees.

For once, it would appear, one of those marvelous tales that are the delight of the Ko-Shimbun scribes, is to be thoroughly sifted. A story has long been circulated concerning the existence, in a lonely spot some seven ri from Yatawa, in Gifu Prefecture, of two brothers whose bodies are covered with long hair and whose voices, features, and behavior are exactly those of the apes. So persistently has the rumor been spread that the prefectural authorities have requested Mr. Tsuboi Hayami, chief physician of the Gifu hospital, to repair to the place in question and draw up a minute report on the strange pair, if they really exist. Hairy men are no great novelties; but a hirsute growth in connection with similar characteristics of a pronounced type, sounds like the discovery of the missing link.

The following is the latest return of railways in Japan: Length of railways completed, 1933 m. 10 ch. (capital, yen 112,806,252), of which 557 m. 49 ch. are government railways and 1375 m. 41 ch. (yen 74,793,000) are private railways; length of railways in course of construction, 221 m. 11 ch. (yen 6,903,000); length of routes sanctioned by the government, but not yet commenced, 92 m. 35 ch. (yen 3,034,090); length of lines, applications for the construction of which have been sanctioned by the railway council, 851 m. 55 ch. (yen 46,487,243). In addition, yen 10,000,000 is to be spent upon constructing the Sanyo, Kyushu, and other lines by private companies, while the government has to defray yen 78,000 annually for a similar purpose. The total quantity of foreign rails imported yearly is yen 3,600,000 in value, of which yen 1,200,000 is to be defrayed by the government, and yen 2,400,000 by private firms.

THE KOREAN MARTYR.

A Large Demand for Kim-ok-Kyun's Autographs.

It is not generally known that the late Korean refugee was a caligrapher of a very high order. Even during his lifetime, ornate specimens of his penmanship commanded a high price, as much as five and even ten yen being paid for scrolls containing half a dozen Chinese ideographs written in that bold and free style so much admired by the Japanese. [illegible] was proud of his skill, and rarely wrote for profit, unless very hard pinched indeed. Now, that he is dead, autographs of his are said to command a fabulous price, one hundred yen having been paid for a scroll containing twelve characters only. Letters written by him are also eagerly sought for and are generally mounted on silk by the fortunate possessors. For even in his private correspondence Kim wrote with a quaint stateliness and precision quite out of the ordinary, and wholly at variance w[illegible] own impetuous, adventurous spirit. His intimate friends in Tokyo have been importuned for even a scrap of his writing, while some of the old brushes used by him shortly before setting out on his last journey have been most carefully preserved and are to be divided up among those who claim closest friendship. Kim was an excellent Chinese scholar, and more at home in the complex ideographs of that country than when writing the abbreviated syllabary of Japan. Some ardent epistles written in kana and directed to a widow lady to whom he was once greatly attached, are extant and said to be most amusing reading, as Kim was at the time, but slightly acquainted with Japanese.—Japan Mail.

JUSTICE TO VINYARDISTS.

A Re-arrangement of the Market Fair to All.

San Francisco, June 12.—There is good news for the wine growers of California. A syndicate is being formed which will be willing to pay living prices to vinyardists. Capitalists who have money invested in viticulture, banks who hold mortgages on vine lands, and dealers who do not believe in killing the goose that lays the golden egg, representing an aggregate of $10,000,000, are about to combine to place one of California's industries once more on a paying basis. They have an interest in protecting $60,000,000 invested in wine making, and they stand ready to pursue a liberal policy towards the producers. They propose to put $1,000,000 in the scheme and to incorporate for five years. They [illegible] growers shall bind themselves to give options on their crops. The proposition to organize the syndicate does not come from its members, but from a committee of wine growers recently appointed to devise means by which a crisis in this industry might be overcome. These committeemen visited the bankers, capitalists and dealers and laid before them their plan of action and obtained provisional consent. Now they are at work with the producers, and hope within ten days or a fortnight to obtain sufficient options to launch the project to success.

Brickbat Religion.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 12.—Trouble has broken out in the Polish Catholic church here, and half a dozen of the members have been arrested. A few weeks ago Father Kryszwono resigned and Bishop Burke appointed a new priest. Then some of the members accused the others of making [illegible] for their past pastor, and the result was a pitched battle with bricks. Bishop Burke has removed the last appointed priest, and the end is not yet. The cases will be heard to-day.

EFFECTS OF THE FLOOD.

What a Reporter Saw—Scenes at Once Lamentable and Ludicrous.

Piano Tied to the Rafters—A Family Camped Under a Barn Roof —Some Losses.

Vancouver, June 2.—A representative of the News-Advertiser has just returned from a trip up the river on the Transfer, and the following are a few incidents of the results of the freshet noted on the trip:

Barnston island was covered with water to the depth of about six feet. Every place seemed to be deserted, but in front of a barn was a small raft with a pair of horses on it, apparently ready for removal to some safer quarters, but on returning they were still in the same place.

Ketsey was completely inundated, and seemed to be deserted altogether, not so much as a Siwash cur to be seen around the Indian rancherie.

The magnificent orchard belonging to Mr. Sam Robertson at Langley was covered with water to a depth of about three feet, doubtless ruining this season's crop, if not permanently injuring the trees.

After stopping and taking passengers and freight from a train from Vancouver the steamer proceeded on her voyage. West's mill at Langley was flooded, and about a mile farther up was a farm. The dwelling was completely surrounded with a sea of water just rising to the height of the door knob. At this place there was a kind of staging erected, and on this staging was placed a number of personal effects, such as chairs, table, mattress, etc., and amongst other things was noticed a barrel, evidently containing flour or other perishable material, over which was an open umbrella, with the handle stuck inside of the barrel. Evidently the genius of one of the fair sex had been at work here, as who among the sterner sex would ever have thought of such a magnificent covering. All along the south bank of the river here for a distance of five or six miles was one scene of desolation, houses deserted and no signs of life. The fences were floating around, with nothing left to show where they had originally stood.

At Wharnock station the water was over the rails of the C. P. R. Opposite Wharnock is the valuable farm of Mr. M. D. McLennan. This is all one angry sea, neither fences nor anything else to mark the boundaries thereof. The damages here will amount to several thousands of dollars, as the whole crop will be lost.

On the opposite side of the river from Mount Lehman the same state of affairs exists, the different farms inundated being too numerous to mention individually.

Matsqui prairie, one of the richest farming districts on the Fraser, is one vast lake, the submerged portion aggregating at least thirty square miles. There is nothing to be seen of the Mission branch of the C. P. R. but the telegraph poles.

Mission City and wharf is all under water, the steamer having to land about a mile farther up on the high land opposite the C. P. R. station. The Mission bridge is to all appearance as sound as ever, but doubtless there will be some of the piers damaged to a certain extent by having the foundation washed away by the fearful current of the water. The guard piles at the lower end of the draw are gone.

Hatsic prairie, another important farming district, has not escaped, but, like Matsqui prairie, is one vast sea. Dewdney and Nicomen islands are also in the same predicament, being covered to a depth of from three to twelve feet. The hop farm of Mr. R. Garner is a complete sea, the water rising in a great many instances nearly to the tops of the poles erected for the hop vines to climb. The water is in some cases nearly to the eaves of the houses, the inmates having migrated with their stock to Sumas mountain opposite. Here are seen small clearings with tents erected, where families have formed themselves into small canvas villages, with their stock grazing on the hillside. There are at least twenty families camped on this mountain in different parts, and doubtless their troubles are greatly enhanced by the inclement weather, scarcity of provisions, short supply of fodder for the stock, etc.

At Sumas the writer left the steamer and procuring a small boat proceeded to visit some of the farmers there, and not till then did he realise to any extent the damage done by the raging flood. At Sumas Landing the hennery barn which used to stand with its gable end towards the river was found turned with its side "where its end should be" with the water up to its eaves. Here the writer could not find bottom with a twelve foot pole. The next place visited was a farm near where was found the owner inside his barn camped on a small platform in size about 6 by 10, erected away up in the rafters. There was a cook stove fixed up, and the inmates appeared to be in the best of spirits. Looking through the various buildings, in one of them was found an excellent piano slung up to the roof and the upper story piled full of furniture, clothing, bedding and general household effects. The dwelling house was a complete wreck, the front side having been washed down by the heavy seas coming in from the lake. The chicken house was floating around, and other small outhouses were gone altogether. The inhabitants had succeeded in removing all their stock to higher lands, and so far had not lost anything but a few hogs.

Their principal losses, beside destruction to buildings, fences, etc., are sixty cords firewood, thirty acres grain, fifteen acres of potatoes and about a hundred acres of timothy hay; also the first crop, consisting of about ten acres of an orchard and small fruits.

The public school is gone altogether. The shed adjoining the church has also disappeared. The comparatively new dwelling-house of Mr. D. McGillivray is completely gutted, and all his outhouses are gone, including the post office. The same story was here repeated as to loss of crop, grain, hay, fruit, etc., being all destroyed.

On the way from here to Chilliwack was passed what had been only two short weeks before fifteen happy and prosperous homes. In some cases the owners were still living in the upper stories of their dwellings, and in others the dwellings were deserted altogether. In every case there was the same scene of desolation, fences gone, and the fencing piled up in immense jams wherever there was any obstruction to hold it. Young orchards were seen with parts of the trees above water and part under altogether. These young trees alone must have aggregated from three to five thousand. The general destruction was beyond description. It has to be seen before it can be realized.

It would be premature to estimate the losses sustained here, but in the portion traversed by the small boat it would aggregate in the neighborhood of forty thousand dollars.

In the town of Centreville three-fourths of the houses were flooded and the inhabitants living in the upper stories. Some of the stores were closed altogether, and some with planks laid across empty boxes, etc., were still doing business in a small way, while others, built high off the ground, were doing a rushing trade.

The steamer Courser was steaming over the country rescuing stock and perishable effects, navigating her way between stumps, jams of floating fences, etc., and as night was drawing near she was noticed up in the rear of the Harrison house.

From Centreville back to the mountain, including the big prairie and up to Cheam the same story could be repeated, with many personal hairbreadth escapes thrown in to give spice to the same, but the people as a whole, although having lost everything, are looking for the abatement of the flood, determined not to give in, but to go on again pushing to future success. Some are hoping that the government will take hold of this immense area and fomulate some scheme to prevent a recurrence of the past experiences.

PACKED IN TRUNKS.

The Stratagem Adopted by Procurers of Japanese Women.

As the vigilance of the water police increases the stratagems of the vile procurers of Japanese women grow more desperate in their endeavors to get the wretched girls whom they entice into their clutches away from the country upon the outgoing mail steamers. The old dodge of hailing the vessels after they had passed outside the lightships has long ago been abandoned, while the co-operation of the mail packet officers has also put a stop to the practice of Japanese women going on board the vessels on the pretext of saying farewell to departing friends and then being locked up in convenient places until the ship has got to sea. It was left, however, to the ingenious brain of a Japanese named Tottori Yorozu and his wife to pack up their unfortunate victims Osuki, 18; Hoshide Ino, 18; Hasegawa, Ito, 21; and Kaneko Ichi, 17—in four old travelling trunks. In the bottom of these a hole six inches square was cut with a lid opening inwards into a false bottom, in order to admit air when required. These boxes, alleged to contain clothes, were taken off to the Tacoma on Saturday, and it was only by good luck or the merest accident that the dastardly scheming did not end fatally to at least three of the girls. It appears that a Japanese accomplice had gone off to the ship to receive the trunks, intended to unlock them when opportunity offered, but his intention was frustrated through the officers refusing such bulky packages in the steerage accommodation. Three of the boxes had been dumped on the deck without anything occurring—the unfortunate girls having already fainted for want of air—but when the fourth—a somewhat large trunk, in which was stowed Hoshide Ino—was put on the deck upside down, attention was directed through Hoshide crying out, "Let me out," in Japanese. The trunk was immediately opened, and to the surprise of everybody a Japanese woman was found huddled up inside. This discovery caused the other trunks to be opened, and in each a semi-conscious woman was found. The voluminous clothing of a female Japanese had in three instances prevented the ingress of air into the trunks, and the girls had soon fainted away. The police took charge of the distressed damsels, and after landing them at the hatoba conveyed them to the police station. One was so exhausted that she had to be carried all the way from the ship, and was, in fact, at one time given up for dead. The vile traffickers in human frailty have been arrested, and we trust will be made an example of. The price these wretches hoped to obtain from the sale of the girls, they have acknowledged, was from $400 to $500, gold.—Japan Mail.

AMERICAN NEWS NOTES.

Daily Chronicle of the Events of the Great Republic.

San Francisco, June 12.—Carl Lee, an educated Chinese dentist of this city, has been married by contract to Bessie Watson, a girl of sixteen years. The girl is the daughter of a white woman, but had a Chinese father. She dressed in American fashion and would not be taken for a halfbreed. This is the first marriage of the sort between Chinese in this city.

Dallas, Tex., June 12.—Creed Herndon shot and killed J. J. Reasor, a prominent citizen of Cook county, near Collinsville last night. Reasor was sitting on a porch when Herndon came up. While talking pleasantly Herndon called his attention to something in the yard. Reasor turned his head, when Herndon shot him behind the ear. Reasor ran and fell into the yard. Herndon fired two more shots, reloaded his pistol and fired five more shots into the body. Herndon was not captured.

"Is this hot enough for you?" is a silly question; but if you meet a man who complains of suffering from the heat, ten to one you will find, on enquiry, that he does not use Ayer's Sarsaparilla to tone up his system and free his blood from irritating humors.

VICTORIA PRESBYTERY.

A James Bay Congregation—Induction of Mr. Morrison.

At the meeting of the Victoria Presbytery yesterday afternoon, there were present Rev. D. A. Macrae, of Nanaimo, moderator; Rev. Dr. Campbell, Rev. A. B. Winchester, Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Wellington, and J. T. Bethune, Rev. Mr. Jenkins, of Melbourne, Australia, was also present.

The signatures of 55 members and 53 adherents were attached to a petition in behalf of a congregation in James Bay district, (Rev. P. McF. McLeod, pastor), was read and on motion of Rev. Dr. Campbell, seconded by Rev. A. B. Winchester, the petition was in regular course laid on the table and a committee composed of Rev. Mr. Rogers, and A. Sharp, Wellington, and Rev. Mr. Macrae, of Nanaimo, were appointed to ascertain all the information necessary and to report at a later date to the presbytery. It is proposed to worship in the school house on Kingston street.

The presbytery met in Mission hall, Spring Ridge, at 8 o'clock, to ordain R. G. Murison, who had been accepted on probationary trial, as missionary in charge of the three mission fields, Cedar Hill, East Fernwood and Spring Ridge. Rev. Dr. Campbell presided, and put the usual questions to the missionary. Previous to this Dr. Campbell stated that Mr. Murison had passed a very satisfactory examination, and paid a high tribute to his qualifications for the work he had agreed to enter upon, that of a home missionary. The usual questions having been satisfactorily answered Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Wellington, preached an able sermon on the work of the Holy Spirit. Rev. D. Macrae, of St. Paul's, addressed the missionary, giving him many practical lessons from his own sixteen years' experience in similar work and offering him wise counsel for his guidance in dealing with his field of labor. The moderator, Rev. D. A. Macrae, Nanaimo, addressed the congregation, urging them to help their minister and the work in which he is to engage.

Rev. Dr. Campbell completed the ordination ceremony by invoking the divine blessing and along with the other members of the presbytery engaged in the "laying on of hands of the presbytery." This was followed by the missionary's answering the questions put as to his adherence to the Presbyterian form of government.

Dr. Campbell pronounced the benediction, after which Rev. A. B. Winchester conducted the newly ordained missionary to the door of the church and introduced him to the congregation present. Amongst those in the hall were representatives from Cedar Hill and East Fernwood and some of the members of the other Presbyterian churches in the city. A good choir rendered excellent music during the ceremony. The hall in which the ordination took place seats about 200 people and it was well filled.

TO NURSE THE LEPERS.

A Vancouver Lady Who Wants to Emulate Father Damien.

Rev. E. D. McLaren and Mr. Balfour Ker waited on the Vancouver city council on Monday evening in behalf of the lady who wants permission to go to Darcy Island to nurse the Chinese lepers. Rev. Mr. McLaren said:

"He had had the privilege some time last fall of bringing under the notice of the council the noble desire of Mrs. Hansel to nurse the unfortunate lepers on Darcy Island. He had stated then that she only requested that the proper authorities should provide her with a house to live in, and her intention was to do their cooking. The council had, after some discussion, agreed that a letter should be sent to the city council of Victoria, asking them to co-operate in the matter, and he understood that an unfavorable answer had been received. Mrs. Hansel had remained month after month in the hope that her wish might be gratified and had refused an invitation from friends to go and live in the east in order that she might be permitted to undertake the work. At her request he had taken the opportunity when he was in the east of stating the case to the governor-general, and asking him to use his influence to secure from the Dominion government the assistance which might be needed. The fact that the leper colony was made up of Chinamen made the Dominion government more responsible, inasmuch as they secured the poll tax. It would be necessary also, in case she should contract the disease, for her expenses be paid across the continent to the Hazelton, Nova Scotia. He considered that there should be no hesitation on the part of the council or the citizens in giving her every facility. He called attention also to the fact that the men on the island were dying by inches with nobody to minister to them at all, and if it should come to pass that the world know of two or three Chinamen left there without any assistance when at the mere expenditure of a few hundred dollars they could have had a woman who had offered her life, it would be to the lasting disgrace of the Pacific coast. If the city council were not prepared to undertake the financial burden involved and there was no possibility of inducing the Victoria council to bear its fair share, then the provincial government should be required to do this.

Mr. Balfour Ker also addressed the council on the advisability of granting this request.

On motion of Ald. McDowell, seconded by Ald. Franklin, the matter was referred to the board of health.

HOKE OBJECTS.

Secretary Smith Not Satisfied With a Californian Appointment.

San Francisco, June 12.—A special from Washington this morning says Secretary Hoke Smith of the interior department, is dissatisfied with Will S. Greene, of Colusa, the recently appointed surveyor-general of California. It is intimated that Smith has about decided to demand Greene's resignation or summarily remove him from office. Smith, in the first place, is angry at Greene's course in appointing members of his family to all important positions within his gift. The secretary has not approved Greene's appointments and will not do so. He said to a members of congress a day or two ago that protests without number are said to have come from California about Greene's course since he assumed his office. They have had their effect upon the secretary and no surprise may be created if he should insist upon Greene's resignation in the immediate future.

EVIDENCE FOR DEFENCE.

Testimony That is Expected to Prove of Immense Service to Sydney Lobb.

Another Post-Mortem Examination Demanded—Electric Railway By-Law.

Nanaimo, June 13.—The preliminary trial of S. W. Lobb for murder has been set for Friday. The defence claim they have sufficient evidence to prove the act was committed by the deceased's own hand. A servant girl who was previously employed in the family is the all important witness, and besides this the defence has demanded a post mortem examination to be conducted by Drs. McKechnie and Davis, in the hope that the body may give evidence of a condition in favor of the prisoner's testimony. Lobb is expected to be in full control of his faculties by the time set for the hearing.

The electric tramway by-laws passed its first and second readings on Monday night, but Ald. Churchill is of the opinion that it will be shelved on the third reading, as public sentiment is not in favor of the scheme.

Premier Davie has announced his intention of addressing a meeting at Cedar district on Friday night and at Gabriola Island on Saturday morning.

The following programme has been arranged for the Knights of Pythias memorial services on Sunday next: The procession will form at 2 p.m. in front of the opera house, march down Commercial street to Wallace and along Wallace on to Comox road and out to the cemetery. There addresses will be delivered by Col. A. H. Richardson and Rev. R. R. Maitland, after which the graves will be decorated. The order of march will be as follows: Marshal, S. R. J. Crossan; B. C. B. G. A. band; uniform rank; Victoria lodge, No. 17; Maple lodge, No. 15; Sunset lodge, No. 10; Wellington band; Myrtle lodge, No. 9; Damon lodge, No. 8; Nanaimo lodge, No. 4; silver cornet band; Wellington lodge, No. 2, and Far West lodge, No. 1.

BOSS CROKER'S SNEAK.

The Pugilist Leader of Tammany Flees to Europe Suddenly.

New York, June 12.—Richard Croker's sudden and unexpected departure for Europe on Saturday was about the only thing talked of among politicians yesterday. He has mapped out a trip which will keep him busy until after the election, by which time it is expected that the committee will be through its work. Tammany men to-day, while more disinclined to talk of Croker's flight on Saturday, laughed at the idea that he would come back to appear before the committee. Half a dozen Tammany men, including ex-Senator Switzer, J. W. Boyle, James Keating and Michael Kennedy, declined to discuss the matter, but the smaller fry were saying unpleasant things of what they call Croker's "throwing down" Tammany Hall. Senator Daniel J. Bradley, one of the committee is inclined to be sarcastic in talking of Croker's hasty departure for Europe. He was seen at his home this evening. "Croker's sudden exit did strike me as rather peculiar," he said, "but then I suppose Croker knows his own business best. I see they say he has gone to Carlsbad to get mud baths. Probably if he had remained here he would get a mud bath all right, but perhaps he preferred Carlsbad mud. He is leaving plenty of judges, police officials and others behind him, though, to take mud baths here. It is quite a common thing, you know, for rich men to take vacations at this time of the year and perhaps Mr. Croker, who is certainly rich enough, just wanted to be in style. Perhaps the mud baths of Carlsbad may improve his health to such an extent that when he comes back he will be able to tell us how he became a millionaire in so short a time. His absence will not embarrass the investigating committee in the least. I do not know whether it was Mr. Goff's intention to call him for a while. Anyway, Goff keeps his own counsel largely, and often surprises the committee as much as he does the public. Of course, there are lots of things he would like to learn from Croker and we may have an opportunity when he comes back. You know we have plenty of witnesses for a long time to come. While Croker has not been subpenaed yet he may have heard something of what was coming which induced him to go abroad. One thing I ascertained and that is in spite of the fact that Croker ostensibly resigned as leader of Tammany hall, nothing of importance is done in the organization to-day unless he is consulted."

"Are sessions of investigation next week likely to be as interesting as those of last week?"

"Quite so. The committee has scarcely started its work. There are plenty more Rooschs to be given an opportunity to vindicate themselves."

Senator Lexow, chairman of the police investigating committee, was seen at his home in Nyack this evening in regard to the departure of Croker. Croker had not been summoned to appear before the committee," said the senator, "and his going away at this time seems strange. It was quite a surprise to me. State Senator Robertson, another member of the committee, was greatly surprised when he learned that Richard Croker had sailed, evidently for Europe. He was asked if the report that Croker was to be summoned before the Lexow committee was true. He said the report was true. A subpoena had not been made out, but it would have been in a few days. It was the intention of the committee to have Croker before them and also heads of the different city departments. Mr. Robertson remarked that Croker was the healthiest sick man he had ever seen.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

ATHLETICS.

ROEBER BEATS ROSS.

New York, June 12.—At the academy of music to-night Ernest Roeber, the champion Graeco-Roman wrestler of the world, defeated Duncan C. Ross. Roeber won three straight bouts. In the first, catch-as-catch-can, Roeber threw Ross in ten and a half minutes. He won the second, Graeco-Roman, in five minutes, and the third, catch-as-catch-can, in four minutes.

OXFORD AND YALE.

New York, June 12.—The Yale-Oxford contests have been fixed for July 16.

BASEBALL.

A GREAT GAME.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser says the season of America's national game was opened there on Monday on the Hotel Vancouver lawn. The competing teams were to represent trained waiters and train waiters, and for days the latter have been patiently waiting for reinforcements with which to enter upon the contest. At last all hands were mustered and at 2:45 the train waiters—commercial men enjoying an enforced visit in this city and at the same time a prolonged opportunity of appreciating its beauties—were represented by the following: Messrs. Stewart, Dunbar, Fields, Cline, McEven, Brignell and Percival, with Gundecker and Kallmeyer as battery. The trained waiters (of the Hotel Vancouver) were represented by Messrs. Young, Nelson, Haring, Kennedy, Solanger, Willis and Smith, with Doran and Hayden as battery. The lawn was somewhat limited in field area so the pitching was confined to that sort known as "lobbs." By innings the score stood:

Trained .....0 0 1 0 3 0 1—5
Train ..... 9 12 1 5 11 5—44

The game was most satisfactorily umpired by Dr. Mitchell, of Olympia, although at times it appeared that the 18 players, six occupants of the sweaters' bench, five upon the reserved seats and a couple of hundred upon the sidewalk were umpiring the worthy medico. Mr. H. E. Osborne kept the official score, and though base hits, and errors and died on firsts were somewhat uncertain, that worthy hesitates not in vouching that 44 and five crossed the home plate respectively.

THE TURF.

SALE OF FAST ONES.

Morris Park, N. Y., June 13.—The horses belonging to Boyle & Littlefield were sold at auction to-day. The prices over $1000 were as follows:

Peacemaker, Onondaga-Jewse, Gougare stables, $4300; Halton, Himyar-Maud, L. H. Vingut, $3500; Miss Maude, Duke of Montrose-Miss Mattie, C. Littlefield, $8000; Bright Phoebus, Falsetto-Buff and Blue, C. Littlefield, $5600; Second Attempt, Himyar-First Attempt, C. Littlefield, $1200.

YACHTING.

THE GLORIANA WINS.

New York, June 12.—In the New York Yacht club race today the sloop Wasp was beaten by the sloop Gloriana by nearly half an hour. The Ariel barely defeated the Emerald on time allowance. In the mixed running race the sloop Queen Mab won on her time allowance of nearly thirteen minutes, and the schooner Sachem finished two minutes ahead of her.

CRICKET

THE ALBION TEAM.

The following team will represent the Albion cricket club in their match on Saturday the 16th inst., with Victoria college, on the Albion grounds, at 2.30 p.m.: G. A. Mathy, Q. H. Worden, W. H. Howard, H. Martin, C. Schwengers, F. W. Thomas, H. Hewitt, J. C. Jones, A. C. Anderson, C. Frost and H. C. Janion.

ALWAYS IN TROUBLE.

A Woman With a Genius for Getting Into Hot Water.

Chicago, June 12.—Zella Nicholans is again immersed in the sea of trouble. [illegible] man for several days at the Hotel Normandie, a very fashionable hotel on Michigan boulevard, and has had an adventure with a Chicago constable. She had become indebted in some way to Marshall, Field & Co. in the sum of $200, and in order to recover it it was necessary for W. G. Forrest, agent of that firm to sue out an attachment on her goods before Justice Everett. The writ was given to Constable Elcke, who had a protracted hunt before he could locate her. The hotel proprietor ordered her and her companion to leave the hotel, and as the couple were leaving the constable attached and took away with him Zella's trunk, which, he says, contains an immense amount of valuables.

There was a great scene in front of the hotel before this could be accomplished, as the couple made the most blood-curdling threats. But the officer, all the same, tossed the trunk into the wagon and drove to his home. The attorney of Marshall, Field & Co. proposes there will be great fun when the suit is tried before Justice Everett. Zella has recently been requested to leave the Wellington, Leland and Victoria hotels.

BRUTALLY TREATED.

How the Cripple Creek Deputies Used Their Prisoners.

Denver, June 12.—John Shorten, editor of the Cripple Creek Herald, published in the interest of miners, who were arrested several days ago, arrived here to-day on parole. He tells a sensational story of the treatment he and others received at the hands of the deputies.

"Fifteen or twenty of us," said Shorten, "were put in a schoolhouse for the night without any blankets or beds. Some of the men were beaten and not allowed to speak to each other or have any writing material.

"In the morning Under Sheriff Mullin's order was to watch the prisoners, and if any refused to do what they are told 'to shoot their —— heads off.'

"We marched in single file and were given some rolls or crackers and whatever coffee was left in an old bucket, and then at the point of muskets were forced to pack water and food for the big camp.

"The hardest case of all was that of a man named Sullivan, who got a telegram at Cripple Creek telling him that his wife was dying and asking him to go to Leadville immediately. I saw this telegram, and when we were captured Sullivan showed it to the deputies, but they refused to liberate him, and would not even allow him to communicate with his dying wife or his family."
